America's most watched television network, CBS was established in 1928, when founder William Paley purchased 16 independent radio stations and christened them the Columbia Broadcast System. Today, with more than 200 television stations and affiliates reaching virtually every home in the United States, CBS is the number one rated network with a primetime line-up that has been watched by more than 233 million people so far this season. The network has the number one scripted show on television, CSI; number one newsmagazine, 60 Minutes; number one daytime drama, The Young and the Restless; and is home to five of the top ten shows on network television this season. Its programming arm includes CBS Entertainment, CBS News and CBS Sports.

Superstation WGN, part of Tribune Broadcasting Company, is a nationally distributed cable network with broad-based, family programming consisting of cable exclusives, first-run programs, blockbuster movies and sports, available in 70 million homes.
